SUMMARY

I am an economic geographer with a background in public policy. My research focuses on urban economic development, especially the economics of immigration and diversity, innovation systems and tech clusters, and public policy for cities. I use mainly quantitative methods. I am currently a Senior Birmingham Fellow at the University of Birmingham, and a Deputy Director of the ESRC-funded What Works Centre for Local Economic Growth. Prior to this I spent 15 years outside academia in non-profits and consultancy, and some time in central government. I am a co-founder of the Centre for Cities think tank. I am also an affiliate at CEP, IZA, NIESR and the Spatial Economics Research Centre.
