

Hello, Diana Weinhold !

This is your personalized report from RePEc. It gives you statistical details about your works listed in your RePEc Profile. This profile is available on the web on various RePEc services:

- EconPapers
- IDEAS \(citation analysis\)
- RePEc Author Service

Detailed download and abstract views statistics are available at LogEc. Here we provide various rankings, and include comparisons with the average score of other people registered in RePEc that have claimed the same affiliation(s) as you. Do not forget to regularly update your profile.

The following affiliations are considered, along with their ranking among all institutions \(modify affiliations\). As you have declared multiple affiliations, the following list also specifies which weight was given to each for the distribution of your scores, and for the within country rankings :

1. London School of Economics \(LSE\), University of London, London, United Kingdom (ranked 10, weight 1)
2. Development Studies Institute \(DESTIN\), London School of Economics \(LSE\), University of London, London, United Kingdom (ranked 1001, weight 1)

You can also obtain rankings of top institutions and economists in the regions of your affiliated institution(s):

1. United Kingdom (you rank 413 of 1953, top 22%)
2. European Union (you rank 1256 of 9796, top 13%)
3. Europe (you rank 1369 of 10877, top 13%)

These statistics are based on data from 20037 authors. Rankings for the top 5% authors are available here.

How can you improve your score?

- Make sure your RePEc profile is up-to-date. Log in at <http://authors.repec.org/> and click on "research".
- The search will only find works with author names that are among you name variations. Log in at <http://authors.repec.org/> and lick on "names" to make sure that all relevant combinations are present. In particular, make sure at least an initial is present in the middle name field, and click on "suggest variations".
- Do not remove older versions of your works from your profile. They may have been cited, or they may have been published in a series with a higher impact factor. Besides, not everyone may have access to published versions, especially in developing countries.
- Encourage your publishers or employers to participate in RePEc and have their publications listed. See the instructions.
- We do not automatically add citations for which we are not sure they are well classified. You can check and add what we have to propose: log in at <http://authors.repec.org/> and click on "citations".

FAQ \(Frequently asked questions\)

The data presented here is experimental. It is based on a limited sample of the research output in Economics and Finance. Only material catalogued in RePEc is considered. For any citation based criterion, only works that could be parsed by the CitEc project are considered. For any ranking of people, only those registered with the RePEc Author

Service can be taken into account. And for rankings of institutions, only those listed in EDIRC and claimed as affiliation by the respective, registered authors can be measured. Thus, this list is by no means based on a complete sample. You can help making this more comprehensive by encouraging more publications to be listed (instructions) and more authors to register (form). For more details on the various rankings that are available as well for documentation, follow this link.
